The 2025 edition delivered strong results for exhibitors, with steady traffic over three days, qualified buyers on the floor, and widespread positive feedback.

Canada's Farm Show is guided by three core pillars that direct programming and partnerships. Each pillar helps shape every aspect of the event, ensuring it remains a cornerstone for the agricultural community. By showcasing new technologies, creating learning opportunities and building lasting partnerships, producers leave with tangible products and services to help their farming operation.

- Collaboration - Our commitment to provide opportunities for producers, decision makers and influencers to connect, collaborate and advance dryland farming practices around the world.
- Education - We are a centre of excellence for education that influences the dryland farming industry and works to provide opportunities for learning and growth. We are committed to engaging and educating our youth.
- Innovation - Recruit, evaluate and support quality innovations in the agriculture industry in dryland farming. Our goal is to ensure innovation remains a strong and driving force behind our economy.

The 2026 Innovation Awards presented by Farms.com and Greenwave Innovations are open. The program recognizes Agricultural Innovators who have found ways to keep the industry moving forward through imagination, creation, and innovation.

The program consists of four categories:

- Emerging Innovator: Recognizes an up-and-coming innovator who has made significant contributions to innovation in their field.
- Visionary Innovator: Celebrates a veteran innovator whose long-standing contributions have advanced the agricultural industry over the years.
- Farmer Innovator: Celebrates a farmer who adopts new technologies on their farm.
- Community Innovator: Acknowledges an innovator who has made a positive impact on their local community through agricultural initiatives, education, or outreach.

The Innovators Program seeks to create a lasting impact on the future of farming by recognizing the invaluable contributions of those dedicated to advancing agriculture.

Canada's Farm Show (CFS) Regina, SK presented by Bunge will be at REAL District March 17-19, 2026.
